Book Notices.

We have received the following late publications from Bancroft & Co., San Francisco:

BENSLEY. A Story of To-Day. By the author of "Life Before Him," "A Bachelor's Story," etc. James Gregory, New York. Bancroft V Co., San Francisco.

A highly interesting story, rich in humor, pointed in satire, of refined sentimentalism, and abounding in high flights of the imagination. The writer certainly has the faculty of reaching the heart of the reader, and impressing it with the feelings and passions of the characters.—Just sust such a book as a lover of the sentimental would like to take to a quiet place, with no companion but the babbling brook and singing birds. Harold, one of the principal characters, philosophises thus upon the world:

"You are in a strange mood," said George.

"So I am," replied Harold; "and it is a strange world—a strange menagerie, the whole of it."

"It is a noble world," replied George, with spirit I detest this misanthropy."

"So it is in the parlor. So it is when the curtains are dropped, the candles lighted, and you smooth the palm of your lover. But parlors are few and the world is so big! For me, I stagger under it; men and women, heaven and earth, life and death, wind and water, all drive me mad. Noble! Why it is a perpetual clash of antagonisms; it is a story of life and creation continually springing up into beautiful forms, and trampled down to death by destiny, fate, and the devils Look where you will, on man or nature, and what do you see? Breeding, feeding, feeding, killing, and dying! Nothing else, by the two kings, Jupiter and Lucifer! It's all hurly-burly; all madness and pandimonium; it is every species against all other species; every self against all other selfs; its life consumed on all sides to make more life; the big eating the little, to be in turn eaten by the more big. The devils are not in man alone. Man, even in his evil, fits his surroundings, and if the fall of Adam be his curse, then all animals, all vegetable life, all the elements, all creation, in fact, must have eaten of the forbidden tree. Everywhere there is an incessant battle of inharmonies. Life prays on life; elements clash on elements; heat and cold scorch and freeze; gales whelm fleets into the sea; rivers flood the land, volcanoes rip open the earth, pestilences leap upon the winds, deadly vapors issue from the soil,"—

"Stop, Harold, stop."

"Stop! The world—I mean society—conspires to keep me and others silent. I will not be silent. Speech must out or the brain will burst. These vapors, I say, pour out from the bosom of mother earth, and poison her children, and nothing is balanced to any end or means—nothing but the stars. The world rushes on bewildered, breathless and mad. There is nothing going on but fecundity. * * There is nothing but a terrible chain of death transforming into life; all nature lives to breathe, and dies to fatten. Why must life in one form perpetually contribute to the perpetuation of some other form? Isn't the fly as good as the spider?"

HUSKS, and COL. FLOYD'S WARDS. By Marian Harland. Sheldon & Co., New York; Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

Mirian Harland is known to the reading public as the author of "Alone," "Hidden Path," "Moss Side," etc.—she has been highly commended for correct delineation of character and skill in managing plots. "Husks and Colonel Floyd's Wards" will suit those who are not clamorous for the sensational.

HANNAH THURSTON; A STORY OF MARRIED LIFE. By Bayard Taylor. G. P. Putnam, N. York; Bancroft & Co, San Fransisco.

As a descriptive writer, Bayard Taylor ranks among the highest; and although fiction is a new field for him to range in, he has proven by this story that he has studied character well, and can describe the thoughts of the mind as well as scenes of matter. He says in the Preface: "The plan of the following story has long been familiar to my mind. I perceived peculiarities of development in American life which have escaped the notice of novelists, yet which are strikingly adapted to the purposes of fiction, both in the originality and occasional grotesqueness of their external manifestation, and the deeper questions which lie beneath the surface. I do not, therefore, rest the interest of the book on its slender plot, but on the fidelity with which it represents certain types of character and phases of society, and there are none of the opinions uttered by the various characters which may not now and then be heard in almost any country community of the Northern and Western States."

LIFE OF "STONEWALL" JACKSON. By Markinfield Addey. Chas. T. Evans, New York; Bancroft & Co., San Franci co.

This work claims to be a "narrative of facts, and a detailed description of the leading events in General Jackson's military career—events exhibiting such a high order of military skill, such indomitable energy, and such exalted courage that they have caused the story of his deeds to travel far and wide, and have stamped his name as being that of the most brilliant commander of the war.

BROKEN COLUMNS. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

Thrown to the public anonymously, and relying upon its own merits for success While it is a good portrayal of character, and a well-arranged plot, and contains passages of intense passion, beautifully expressed, we cannot recommend it for its moral character. However, read it and judge for yourself.

HEART AND CROSS. A TALE. By Mrs Oliphant, author of "Margaret Maitland." "Laird of Norlaw," etc. James G. Gregory, New York. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

The author is too well known to need our praise. This is equal, if not superior to her previous work, and of more than average merit.

THE CRUELEST WRONG OF ALL. By the Author of "Margaret, or Prejudice at Home." Jas. G. Gregory, N. Y.; Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

We have not read it, but if it is as good as "Margaret," is must be interesting and truthful to nature.

We have also received from Bancroft & Co., the following Maps; they are indispensable to travelers as guides, pointing out, as they do, the most direct and convenient routes of the different mines North and South, modes of travel, outfit, tables of distances, etc. All those preparing for a trip should not fail to secure one:

BARCROFT'S MAP OF THE WASHOE SILVER REGION OF NEVADA TERRITORY. H. H. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

BANCROFT'S MAP OF OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, AND BRITISH COLUMBIA.

BANCROFT'S MAP OF CALIFORNIA, NEVADA, UTAH, AND ARIZONA.

BANCROFT'S GUIDE TO THE COLORADO MINES.

UNITED STATES HOMESTEAD LAW.—By a recent decision of the Commissioner-General of the Land Office, the homestead settler has not a complete right, but merely an inceptive title liable to be defeated for non-performance of the conditions. He can therefore only use timber for fencing and building and repairs, under the bounty of Congress He is permitted to acquire a homestead in the public domain for agricultural purposes, on condition of settlement and cultivation for five years. Until this condition is satisfied he cannot commit waste by felling timber for market, as it reverts to the United States on his failure to comply with the terms of the law. As to any supposed purchase by a party from a homestead settler, no right can attach to a sale. The homestead settler has no power to sell, and hence the timber cut by him is liable to seizure.

NATIONAL NICK NAMES.—The inhabitants of Maine are called Foxes; New Hampshire, Granite Boys; Massachusetts, Bay Staters; Vermont, Green Mountain Boys; Rhode Island, Gun Flints; Connecticut, Wooden Nutmegs; New York, Knigkerbockers; New Jersey, Clam Catchers; Pennsylvania, Leather Heads; Delaware, Muskrats; Maryland, Claw Thumpers; Virginia, Beagles; North Carolina, Tar Boilers; South Carolina, Weasels; Georgia, Buzzards; Louisiana, Creoles; Alabama, Lizzards; Kentucky, Corn Crackers; Ohio, Buckeyes; Michigan, Wolverines; Indiana, Hoosers; Illinois, Suckers; Missouri, Pukes; Mississippi, Tad Poles; Florida, Fly-up the-Creeks; Wisconsin, Badgers; Iowa, Hawkeyes; Oregon, Hard Cases, and Nevada, Sage Hens.

COMMODORE and Mrs. Vanderbilt celebrated their golden wedding lately at their residence in New York. There was a profusion of golden presents. The Commodore's gift to his matron bride was a miniature propellor of pure gold, fashioned after the Roanoke, thenty inches long and five wide, with revolving towers, which filled the room with music whenever the delicate machinery was set in motion.

Diptheria—A Sure Cure.

Dr. W. A. Scott, of Palmyra, Warren county, Iowa, sends to the St. Louis Democrat the following recipe and mode of treatment for diptheria, which he pronounces a sure cure:

Please publish the following treatment of diptheria. It has been used by myself, and others to whom I have given it, in over one thousand cases without a failure. It will always cure, if the treatment is commenced before the diptheria membrane extends into the air tubes, which is known by the great difficulty of breathing and restlessness. In such cases no remedy yet discovered will always effect a cure; but if the patient is watched, and this treatment used in time, there is no danger.

I sent this treatment to a friend of mine in Wisconsin, and he used it on himself and family and neighbors with such wonderful success that he requested me to send it to him for publication:

EIPTHERIA WASH.

Golden seal, pulverized,	1	drahm.
Borax, "	1	"
Black pepper, "	1	"
Alum, "	1	"
Nitrate of potash, "	1	"
Salt, "	2	"

Put all into a common sized tea cup or vessel which holds about four ounces, and pour half full of boiling water, stir well and then fill full of good vinegar.—Fit for use when it settles. Make a swab by getting a little stick about the size of a pipe stem, notch one end and wrap a strip of cotton cloth around it, letting the cloth project about half an inch beyond the end of the stick, so as not to jag the mouth and throat, and fasten with a thread.

Swab the throat and mouth well every half hour if the case is bad, every hour if not bad. When the patient gets better, every two hours; then when better every four hours, and when still better two or three times a day, till well; which will be from two to seven days. Touch every affected part, the uvula, tonsils and fauces, the whole of the back part of the mouth and top of the throat; and let the patient swallow a little of the wash each time you swob. Swabbing causes no pain though the patient will gag and sometimes vomit; but swob well, and a feeling of relief will follow every swabbing.

Let every patient have a separate swab and wash, as the disease is undoubtedly infectious. Keep the wash pure by pouring what you use each time into another versel, and also wipe off any matter or slime, that may be on the swab, every time you take it from your mouth.

Rub the following liniment on the throat outside, once every three or four hours, and keep a flannel cloth around the neck till well:

Spirits Turpentine, 1 ounce.
Sweet Oil (or Linceed Oil) 1 ounce.
Aqua Ammonia, (mix) 1 ounce.
Shake before using each time.

Keep the bowels regular with castor oil.

Keep the patient in the house, but ventilate well.

The diptheria wash and liniment will be found sufficient for all cases, if taken in time; and should you mistake any other "sore throat" for diptheria, you will effect a cure almost invariably, as I use this for all common sore throats. I have never lost a case, and many have told me that no money would induce them, in these "diptheria times," to be without the wash and liniment; and when a soreness in the throat is felt, it is used, and a cure is always effected.

A CURE FOR BASHFULNESS.—We extract the following from a popular story. It is the early experience of a bashful boy:

Well, my sister Lib gave a party one night, and I stayed away from home because I was too bashful to face the music. I hung round the house whistling "Old Dan Tucker," dancing to keep my feet warm, watching the heads bobbing up and down behind the window curtains, and wishing the thundering party would break up so that I could get to my room. I smoked up a bunch of cigars, and as it was getting late and mighty uncomfortable, I concluded to climb up the door post. No sooner said than done, and I found myself snug in bed. "Now," says I, "let her rip! Dance till your wind is out!" And cuddling under the quilts, Morpheus grabbed me. I was dreaming of soft shelled crabs and stewed tripe, and having a good time, when somebody knocked at the door and woke me up—"Rap, rap, rap" Then Lib sang out, "Jack, are you in there?" "Yes," says I, and then came a roar of laughing.—"Let us in," said she. "I won't," said I; "can't you let a fellow alone?" "Are you abed?" said she. "I am," said I, and then came another laugh. By thunder, I began to get riled! "Get out, you pettiesated sooreytows, can't you get a beau without hauling a fellow out of bed. I won't go home with one of you—I won't—so you may clear out!" And sending my boots at the door, I felt better.

But presently—O mortal buttons! I heard a still small voice very much like sister Lib's, and it said, "Jack, you'll have to get up, for all the girls' things are in there!" O dear what a pickle!—Think of me in bed, all covered with shawls, muffs, bonnets, and cloaks, and twenty girls outside waiting to get in.—get in. As it was, I rolled out among the ribbons in a hurry. Smash went the millinery in every direction; I had to dress in the dark—for there was a crack in the door, and girls will peak—and the way I fumbled about was death to straw hats. The critical moment at last arrived. After running my hand all over my clothes to see that everything was right and tight, I opened the door and found myself right among the women. "O my leghorn," cries one. "My dear winter velvet!" cried another, and they pitched in—they piled me this way and that—they boxed my ears; and one bright-eyed little piece—Sal her name was—put her arm around my neck and kissed me right on the mouth! Human nature couldn't stand that, and I gave her as good as she sent. It was the first time I ever got a taste, and it was powerful good. I believe I could have kissed that gal from Julius Cæsar to Fourth of July. "Jack," said she, "we are sorry to disturb you, but won't you see me home?" "Yes," says I, "I will." I did it, and had another smack at the gate, too. After that we took a kinder turtle doving after each other, both of us sighing like a barrel of cider when we were away from each other.

THE PLACE WE FILL.—If society were arranged according to talent and capacity, and each department occupied by those best adapted, and best calculated to fill them, what a commotion of change and interchange would take place in mansion or hut, office and farm; what additions would be made to high life from the cottage and country, farm houses and work shops. How many hard hands would grow soft while wielding the pen, and soft hands become hardened by the use of the plough and the reaper. How the merchant would till the soil, and the editors sell the produce; how the "doctors" would drop the lance and powders, and take up the last and awl; the city coquette would grow skillful in the culinary department, and the school teacher preside over the "mite society; how some of the poets would take charge of an omnibus, express packages, or a ferry boat," while the farmer would go to the Legislature, clerks would find their business affinities in the pinery and harvest fields, and some of the city police be better adapted to dress stone in State Prisons. Some of the Judges would slip down to the "box," and the man on trial take the bench; "birds of politics" would find rest in the "Insane Asylum," and many of the inmates be fully sane enough to prescribe for them. His blood would ebb in different veins, and aristocracy go out of its own garden gate into the alley.

Mrs. Daniel Wright, on Chestnut avenue, who plays chess in the morning and the belle in the evening, would feel very much out of place in Mrs. Gibbon's milk-cart, taking the responsibility of driving an honest horse, and dealing out the milk to various customers, clad in Mrs. Gibbons' woollen shawl and hood, in which a subdued black is the predominating feature; in mental capacity and pure common sense she would fill the position with more grace than Mrs. Gibbins, and the latter lady, with a little brushing of mind, would be better adapted to take charge of the mansion on Chestnut avenue.

Were all social positions filled by perfect adaptions, coats and kids would suffer a singular handling, professions be stormed anew, and titles crown different names. The Assembly, pulpit, sanctum, Congress, banks, and courts would each take a thorough emetic.—Pacific Monthly.

FROM PORKOPOLIS.—A Cincinnati paper says the whole number of hogs packed in the West this season, up to January 6th, is 1,982,659, against 3,168,559 last year. The estimated number for this year is 2,254,807. The deficiency will not fall short, according to these figures, of 900,000 hogs. The number this season will be the lightest ever packed before, and the yield of lard per hog far less than any season on record. The deficiency thus far, is about thirty per cent. in the number, and in weight about ten per cent.

The examination of J W. Tucker in relation to alleged bogus telegrams about the Wide West mine is postponed two weeks.

Insanity, induced by exposure, is prevalent in the Western armies. Twenty five insane soldiers were sent to Cincinnati a short time since.

The balance in the State Treasury on Saturday, March 12th, was $518,082 07. Warrants on Legislative Fund are payable to No. 2,763.

More shells were discharged in the single battle of Gettysburg than were employed in all the battles that Napoleon ever fought.

The Stockton Independent says that many farmers, in consequence of the lack of feed, and the poor prospect of getting rain, are selecting locations in the tules for their loose stock, to keep them from dying.

Democratic State Convention.—The Democratic State Central Committee met in San Francisco on Wednesday last and called a State Convention, to be held in that city on the 10th day of May, to elect delegates to the Chicago Convention.

The Douglas Monument Association, at Chicago, Illinois, have authorized the preparation of a design for the proposed monument, the cost not to exceed $50,000. It is designed to commence work on the monument about the first of April.

District Court Calendar—March Term, 1864:

The People vs. John W. Markley.
Q. C. Reeves vs. Q. C. Tebbs.
The People vs. Conner & Keithley.
J. E. Allen vs. R. S. Carey.
Patrick Morrissey vs. J. C. & H. Ray.
F. S. Freeman vs. Chas. H. Gray.
Mary Smith vs. John B. Smith.
L. Malone vs. R. Malone.

The Union County Convention meets at Woodland to-day for the election of delegates to the State Convention to assemble at Sacramento, on Thursday, the 24th. We learn that Robt. Gardner, of this place, is a candidate for a seat in the Union National Convention to assemble at Baltimore in June.

Board of Supervisors.—The Board of Supervisors met last week. Nothing of public interest was done more than appointing Thomas Campbell Constable, to fill a vacancy in Cache Creek township. Joseph Ames was also appointed Constable in Washington township. J. C. Murphy was appointed Justice of the Peace to fill a vacancy in Buckeye township.

Social Dancing Party.—A social dancing party will be given at Union Hall on next Thursday evening, by M. G. French, Teacher. A general invitation is extended. Mr. French has contributed a great deal to the pleasure of the past season, and our citizens can in no better manner show their appreciation than by their presence on next Thursday night. Tickets, including lunch, $2 50.

The grain market, especially in regard to wheat, seems to have reached its culminating point the latter part of last week, since which time it has been receding, the highest figure offered on Wednesday last, in San Francisco, being 1 90, with more sellers than buyers at that, and the prevailing impression in commercial circles is, that it will run down to one and a half before it stops. A decline in the price of barley, oats and hay is not without notice, and apprehensions of a further decline tends to strip the market of its former activity. There are two prominent causes for this retrograde movement in the grain and feed market. One is, that a pretty thorough canvass of the State by those interested revealed the fact that there was nearly flour enough on hand in the State to bread the State and Territories dependent upon it for a year, and wheat enough for seed and to bread the people another year; the second cause, and the most obvious one of the two, is the rains which have recently fallen in most of the grain growing districts of the State, giving cause for reasonable hope that pretty fair crops of grain may yet be harvested from ground sown the present season.

The exodus to the mines continues.—Quite a number left this vicinity for Reese River during the week, and we hear of others intending to leave for the same and other mines, unless more rain should fall within the next week to come. No doubt many who are going have not considered well the step they are taking; that the Reese River, Humboldt, and Idaho mines are rich we think is beyond a question; but those who have any material interests here to look after we think had better remain and attend to them, and leave those who are entirely foot-loose to follow after those excitements that in too many cases turn out mere phantoms to the pursuer.

Female Type-Setters.—The subject of employing female compositors having been somewhat discussed by Lisle Lester of the Pacific Monthly, the editor of the Napa Register thus remarks.

We have two daughters, and intend, if they live to a proper age, to make them both accomplished compositors. A liberal course of types will teach them many things better worth knowing than how to murder French or torture a piano. If they have any brains they will be proud of being both independent and useful; if unfortunately they have not, we can restore them to the customary employment of missdom—working red worsted bags, chattering nonsense and spoiling water-colors.

What are the things "better worth knowing than how to murder French or torture a piano," which a liberal course of types will teach them? Will it teach them politics, war news, or make them acquainted with the thieving, suicides, scandalous divorce cases, murders, etc., which occur every day; or the benefits of ten hours work a day, close rooms, impure air, impaired health, and early death. No, Mr. Register; if you want them to learn a "strong man's" occupation, let it be a healthy one, so that when they change their relations from maid to matron, (as has been too often the case for the success of the undertaking in the East) you may have hardy, lively grandchildren to romp with. No "printing shop" for our girl.

Serious Accident.—As the Yuba City omnibus was proceeding towards Yuba City, and near the intersection of Fifth and E streets, passing the descending grade, the kingbolt jumped out and let down the body of the "bus." Sheriff Stewart, of Yuba City, and Mr. Chalmers, and the driver, Wm. Coats, were more or less injured. Chalmers was slightly, but Stewart and Coats were pretty severely bruised and maimed.

The Vallelo Railroad.—A telegram was received in this city, on Monday, from the East, saying that D. C. Haskin left on the last steamer for California, and that Messrs. Frisbie and Polhemus would leave on the next. The inference is therefore that our railroad complications have been settled, and that the work will commence immediately.—Appeal.

W. W. Treadwell, Cashier of the People's Bank of Hudson, Lenwee county, Michigan, skedaddled to Canada on the 23d ult., with $60,000 of the bank's funds. The father of the Cashier was President of the bank, and the son's dishonesty has effected the father's financial ruin.

On Friday night, March 11th, one Patrick Cox was attacked at Virginia, N. T., by three men, who knocked him down and robbed him of $18 in coin and several articles of value.

County Court.

On Monday, March 7th, the County Court of Yolo county convened at Woodland, pursuant to law—Hon. J. A. Hutton, Judge, presiding.

Thomas A. Barrnell vs. E. C. Brown.—Judgment for plaintiff.

S. V. R. Vanduzen vs. his Creditors.—Plaintiff discharged from his debts, etc.

B. Hotchkins vs. Mrs. Duston.—Judgment for plaintiff.

James Mills vs. Wm. Wright.—Continued for the term.

Wm. Flanders vs. Henry Dicker.—Judgment for plaintiff.

People vs. William Ronfrou.—Indictment for grand larceny. Jury trial. Verdict, guilty as charged in the indictment. Judgment, 2 years in the State prison.

People vs James Rossiter.—Indictment for burglary. Jury trial. Verdict, guilty as charged in the indictment.

A. M. Updegraff vs. J. E. Johnson (colored).—Judgment for plaintiff for $94 50 and costs of suit.

The Grand Jury made the following report:

To the Honorable County Judge of Yolo county: The Grand Jury begs leave to submit this their final report. We find that the County Hospital, under the charge of Dr. A. Sprague, is in good order, and the inmates thereof well taken care of. We would earnestly recommend the proper authorities to make some arrangement at an early day for the keeping of county prisoners in our own county. We think such a course would materially lessen the expenses of the county; besides said prisoners would receive much better attention, etc.

Signed. W. J. Clark, Foreman.

Court adjourned.

Freight for the North.—The San Francisco Bulletin of Tuesday says:

The rush of freight for Portland, by steamer, is immense. As early as four o'clock this morning merchants were at their stores, despatching their drays to the steamer with goods for Oregon; and before 10 o'clock there were over 100 teams in line, waiting their turn to unload at Broadway wharf, the drays being piled up and loaded to their full capacity, two to four tuns each; and yet it is said the steamer will not commence loading until four o'clock this afternoon, and perhaps not before to-morrow morning.—We hear of $50 per load being offered for drayage in several instances. In the face of all this press the bark J. A. Falkinburgh has been three days getting 150 tuns of freight, while for the steamer more is offered, and on drays, than she can carry, even twelve hours before she begins to take in freight. At this writing the steamer has not yet completed discharging her inward cargo.

A plan for irrigating the lands lying along the Sacramento river will be put in operation in a few days. It is proposed to elevate the waters of that stream by means of a steam engine, upon the adjoining lands. A. J. Scoggins, of Colusa, has an engine now upon his farm, and he informs us will have the pump operating in a few days. With this in full blast, he can completely inundate his farm, and keep it so as long as he chooses. This is the first time the experiment has been tried, and, if it proves successful, as we can see no reason to doubt it will, will open a new era to those located near the river. There are many localities along the Feather and Yuba rivers that, unless rain soon falls, will be entirely valueless, which, by this process, can be made a source of profit to the owners.—Marysville Express.

California Thirty Years Ago.—Nevada Transcript has the following in connection with the present dry weather:

Residents in this country in 1831, 1832, and 1833, assert that during those years no rain fell in California. The Feather river was fordable at Nicolaus. No grain was raised at the missions. The cattle of the country were chiefly owned by the missions, and the Government, to save a portion of the cattle, ordered that most of them should be killed, and the order was executed by military authority. Large droves of cattle were driven off the cliffs, into the sea. If the accounts are authentic, and there seems to be no valid reason to doubt them, we are liable to such another visitation.

Growth of Hair after Death.—Nearly eight years since, a young man named John Palmer was thrown from a horse in Suisun Valley and had his skull fractured so that he died from the wound. The hair having been shaved from his head, the new growth was very short at the time of his interment on the Ledgewood ranch. On Wednesday last the remains were exhumed for burial in the Masonic cemetary north of town, when it was found that his hair had grown out to the length of eight inches.—Herald.

A dispatch to the Bee of Wednesday last says:

Forty squatters, armed, were in force at Hunter's Point, yesterday, taking possession of a small piece of land on the bay which had not as yet been donated by the Legislature.

Steel Boilers.—Some very practical, thorough, and interesting experiments have been made in Prussia with steel boilers, an account of which has been published in Dingler's Polytechnic Journal. A steel boiler of the egg end shape, 4 feet in diameter and 30 feet in length, without flues, was tried. It had a steam drum 2 feet in diamoter, and 2 feet in height, and the plates were one-fourth of an inch in thickness. Beside it there was placed another boiler, similar in every respect, excepting that the plates were of iron 0.414 of an inch in thickness.—The steam boiler was tested by hydraulic pressure up to 195 pounds on the inch, without showing leakage, and both the iron and steel boilers were worked under a pressure of 65 pounds to the inch for about a year and a half. During this period the steam boiler generated 25 per cent. more steam than the iron one, and when they were thoroughly examined after eighteen months practical working, there was less scale in the steel than in the iron boiler. The former evaporates 11.66 cubic feet of water per hour; the iron boiler 9 37 cubic feet. The quantity of coal consumed was on an average 2,705 pounds for the steel one in 12 hours, and 2,972 for the iron boiler. The plates of the steel boiler over the fire were found to be uninjured, while those of the iron one were about worn out. In Prussia, several worn out plates of iron boilers have lately been replaced with steel, which, it is stated, lasts four times as long. As steel is twice as strong as iron thinner plates of the former may be employed for boilers, and more perfect riveting can be secured. A greater quantity of steam can also be generated in the steel boiler on account of its thin plates, and thus much fuel may be economized. Such steam boilers should engage the attention of all who make and use steam boilers for engineering and manufacturing purposes.

Economy in Traveling.—The Red Bluff Independent says: "We feel inclined to give a little advice to those about to start to the Boise mines from the lower country. A company of four may start from Red Bluff with six animals, taking with them provisions, cooking utensils, and blankets, and the cost of the whole will not exceed $400. The distance can be accomplished in from twenty to twenty five days. This estimate, in comparison with the expenses by the ocean route is plainly visible, when we assert that $60 will barely take a man, without any animal, bagg ge, or provisions, to Portland, from any interior town in this State. And, again, on his arrival in Portland he is only fifty miles nearer Bannock City than he would have been had he come to Red Bluff, and he is fifty miles further away from Owyhee than he would have been had he come to Red Bluff. The rush from the interior of Oregon, by way of Portland, has caused a great scarcity in mules and horses, and consequently those, as a means of conveyance, are exorbitantly high. Those who go by way of the Columbia river to Umatilla, will require to have their pockets well lined with gold coin, as it makes a big hole in $400 to take a man to Bannock City by that route. Thus it will be seen that parties taking their own animals and provisions can accomplish the trip to the Boise and Owyhee mines overland for nearly one fourth of the amount that it takes by ocean, and they have their animals all to the good at the end of their journey, which can be turned to a profitable account, and save at least twenty days of precious time.

Boise.—The principal towns in the Boise country are, East Bannock, West Bannock, Centreville, Placerville, and Boise City. This latter is a central point, and is about thirty miles from West Bannock. Lewiston is at present the capital of Idaho, but the probability is that Boise City will soon occupy that position. West Bannock has a population of over 4,000. It is 250 miles distant from East Bannock, which is situated in the Beaver Head country. The Snake river is navigable to within fifteen miles of Boise City. The two Bannocks are about 400 miles distant from Salt Lake City. Mining is practicable at about the first of May and sometimes in April. About the middle of November it usually becomes intensely cold, and the miners are compelled to suspend labor. The limits of Idaho are extensive, but Boise Basin proper is a region only about fifteen miles long and twelve miles broad, traversed by Moore's and Grimes' creeks, which are tributary to the Snake river.

The Visalia Delta says, that despairing of rain, and unable to procure water from the creeks, as usual, farmers thereabouts have banded themselves together, for the purpose of cutting two or three big ditches from the running streams up among the foothills down to the plains. One of these ditches, in which over a hundred farmers are interested, is eighteen feet wide at the bottom, 22 feet wide at the top, and 12 miles long. It will be finished in three weeks, and with its aid many fair crops of wheat will yet be raised.

Working Hard.—Both branches of the Legislature thus far this week have worked hard to close off the business before them, and with effect. If the members will only exercise as much wisdom as they do energy their legislation will prove beneficial.—Bee.

Eastern News.

The following is a synopsis of the latest Overland news to the Union:

General Meade has returned to the army of the Potomac. He has not tendered his resignation as was reported.

The President has issued a call for two hundred thousand additional men for the army and navy, to form a reserve and be ready for all contingencies. It is said that this is in accordance with the advice of Lieut. Gen. Grant, who insists upon having an ample force for the work before him.

Trouble has occurred in Kentucky in consequence of the enrollment of slaves in that State. The President is said to be taking measures to enforce the law.—Gov. Bramlette, in a calm address to the people, deprecates violence, counsels submission to the laws of the land, and a resort to lawful remedies only in case private rights are infringed.

William F. Smith has been nominated a Major General in the regular army, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the promotion of Grant.

It is said that Fremont will be assigned to the command of the Department of the South, and that Gilmore will obtain an active command in the field.

There is a lull in military operations in Virginia and Georgia. At Charleston, on March 13th, a slow fire was kept up on the city. Farragut had not succeeded in passing fort Powell up to the 8th of March, though a rebel dispatch testifies to the activity of our forces in that quarter.

The bill designed to check speculation in gold has passed both houses of Congress, and only awaits the signature of the President to become a law.

General Neal Dow, who has long been a prisoner at Richmond, has arrived at Fortress Monroe.

European advices to the 6th instant have been received. The Austrians have invaded Jutland, a portion of Denmark proper, and laid siege to Fredrica. This has been done against the remonstrances of England and France. Napoleon means to sustain the position assumed in his remonstrance. Maximilian was at Paris on the 5th, and will leave soon for Mexico. The attitude of France towards Germany is growing hostile.

A San Francisco dispatch says that Rev. Henry W. Bellows, the eloquent Unitarian clergyman and President of the National Sanitary Commission, has accepted a call from the congregation of which the late Starr King was pasture, and that he will sail for California on the 3d of April.

An old resident of California, and a very intelligent and reliable gentleman, named Don Salvio Pacheco, in forms the Contra Costa Gazette that from the year 1824 to 1826 scarcely any rain whatever fell—that cattle died by thousands, and that earthquakes were very frequent and so severe, that in some instances adobe buildings were thrown down and the inmates buried in the ruins.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE remedy upon the stomach, livers and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.
Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood, and nutricious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digenstion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters
Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.
The best means of imparting vigor to the brokendown frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wanted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthful invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A Word to the Aged.
In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters
As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.
Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances & derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the oppressed mental powers, as well as stregthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

Dr. Guysott's Improved
EXTRACT OF
Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla,
Will Cure without Fail

Scrofula or King's Evil, Cancers, Tumors, Eruptions of the skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm or Tetter, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Old Sores and Ulcers, Salt Rhrum, Diseases of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Disease arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulder, General Debility, Dropsy, Jaundice Lumbago, &c.

Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla put up in the largest sized bottles, contains more of the Honduras Sarsaparilla than any other preparation extant, which is combined with the extract of Yellow Dock, the extract of Wild Cherry and the Balsam of Fir, thus making the remedy more thoroughly efficient that any other Sarsaparilla before the public. At the same time it is perfectly free from ALL mineral poisons, which can not be said of any other of the Sarsaparilla compounds. The Invalid should beware of poisons. Mercury, Iron, Quinine, Potash, Iodine, Sulphur, Arsenic, and many other mineral and metalic poisons enter into and form the active basis of most of the sarsaparilla and panaceas of the day. Guysott's Compound Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla does not contain a particle of the substances; as any one can ascertain by applying the necessary tests.

These poisons may occasionally remove disease, but they so vitiate the blood and impregnate the whole system with their baneful effects, that the first cold or the first attack of disease, prostrates the patient's strength and subjects him or her to the most excrutiating torture, and renders another cure almost impossible and hopeless. Let all poisonous sarsaparilla preparations alone, and use Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, which is thoroughly efficacious, perfectly harmless and purely vegetable. All kinds of diseases yield to its genial influence.

Caution.—Beware of counterfeits. All genuine Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla has the name of JOHN D. PARK, Present Proprietor, Cincinnati, O., on the label.

Remember this fact when buying, all without the name of "JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio," on the label are counterfeit.

THE

Knight's Landing News.

"GIVE ME THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD."--It is honorable to get a living by honest industry, and it is but right that every one should have the chance of so doing. It is a disgrace for any one to eat the bread of idleness, if not absolutely forced to do it, in which case it is humiliating as well as enervating in the extreme. To a sensitive being, there is nothing which tends more directly to blast soul and body than a feeling of uncertainty and dependence. It bows such a being into the very dust, and makes happiness a mockery, life a burden. Oh the longing and pining for independence—the desire to feel that our destiny is in our hands, and that we may walk abroad in perfect freedom, breathing the fresh air and enjoying the beauties no nature as one of her darlsng children, with none to say, "Why do you so?" There is an eternal desire in the human breast to feel dependent on God alone—to have our destiny unlinked with that of any other erring dependent mortal, further than we choose from our own free will. It is terrible to feel that others have unnatural power over us, from which it is impossible to extricate ourselves—to feel that we are dependent on others for the bread we eat—for the very maintenance of our existence. And, oh! how much more terrible is the idea that others still are dependent on us—are looking up to us for the privilege of living. Heaven have pity on those poor beings who from youth, age, or sex are incapable of engaging successfully in the great battle of life, and are left the needy dependents of one who must—

"Beg a brother of the earth
To give him a lief to toil,
And see his lordly fellow worm
The poor petition spurn,
Unmindful though a weeping wife
And helpless offspring mourn."

PATENT COMBINED GANG PLOW, SEED SOWER AND HARROW.

We have purchased the right this great labor-saving implement for the State of California.

With this combined Machine one man, with six horses, can do the work of three twelve inch plows, besides sowing the grain, and harrowing it in as he proceeds, thus finishing his work in the best manner possible, without being obliged to travel over the plowed ground. This Machine has been very thoroughly tested. It is made very substantial; is not liable to get out of order, and being on large truck wheels, the Gang Plow, Seed Sower and Harrow, runs lighter than three plows would, cutting the same amount of land.

We are desirous of having these plows generally introduced throughout the State, and are therefore prepared to offer very favorable inducements to farmers and the trade.
